A MADMAN'S ACTS.

An Old Man Stabs a Constable and Kills Himself.

Pleasant Hill, Mo., March 14.—The excitement and indignation attendant upon the Atkinson assault of Wednesday gave way this evening to a feeling of horror over a terrible tragedy enacted here at 7:30 o'clock when Eli Sthalnaker a man 72 years of age slashed Constable A. D. Prather with a butcher knife, inflicting a dangerous wound and a few minutes later committed suicide by stabbing himself to the heart.

Sthalnaker had for some time been considered of unsound mind and had occasioned the town officers much trouble. Some months ago he was arrested for threatening the lives of his wife and children and disturbing the peace. He was tried convicted and sentenced to three months imprisonment being released only recently.

Late this afternoon the old man grew violent again and drove his family from the house. Mrs. Sthalnaker reported the matter to Constable Prather and shortly after 7 o'clock that officer went to the house to arrest him.

Stanley Satisfied With His Work.

St. Johnsbury, Vt., March 14.—The Caledonian publishes the following extracts from a letter written by Henry M. Stanley to a St. Johnsbury friend, dated Cairo, February 14: "The end crowns the work" did I say December 10, 1886? I say it again, this date 1890. I have brought exiles back to their homes. I have reunited parted families. I have rescued those who were in sore straits. I have borne the young and aged and placed them in their loved land of Egypt. I have bought the beleaguered governor out of his threatened bondage. Wherefore as these were the aims of the work and they have been accomplished, I say, 'the end crowns the work.' True, I am blanched and white, but what matters it. I have naught to regret and if any mission of like nature presents itself I should still wish to do it. For either here or there life stays not, but rushes on apace and men must work and strive, but let us do it bravely and fitly with all our strength."

A Mother's Awful Act.

St. Louis, Mo., March 14.—When J. W. Dayboll, foreman of A. N. Kellogg & Co's printing house, went home to supper last night he found his wife covered with blood and nearly dead. The dead body of his 4-months old child lay on the bed.

The mother had put the babe between the mattresses and smothered it to death and had then cut a vein in her wrist and was slowly bleeding to death. Insomnia was the primary cause of the act.

A CLUE AT LAST.

Miss Atkinson Gives the Name of Her Assailant.

Independence, Mo., March 16.—At an early hour this morning, J. W. Atkinson and his son-in-law, accompanied by three of their neighbors, came into this city after Marshal Mel Hulse, to whom they told the fact that they had succeeded in locating the assailant of Miss Atkinson, at Greenwood. The party at once started off, very secretly, and refused to give any information regarding their mission. They returned at a late hour this evening and it was then discovered that their mission had been fruitless. They had been to Lake City for a man whom they supposed to be the one they wanted.

From Mr. Atkinson it was learned that his daughter had become wholly conscious, for the first time, this morning, and had told the name of her assailant. She said he was a man who had worked on the Atkinson farm for about ten days last August, and had been discharged for general meanness.

The man's name was Oliver, and while working for Mr. Atkinson had been heard by a boy who slept in the same room, to threaten the girl. These threats had been the principle cause of his discharge, and when he left he swore he would get even.

As soon as Mr. Atkinson heard the facts of the case he made inquiries regarding the whereabouts of the man and learned that a man named Oliver was working for a man named Hudspeth, near Lake City. The posse was at once organized and went with secrecy, to the place named to capture the scoundrel.

On arriving at the Hudspeth farm it was found that the man named Oliver was not the man who worked for Atkinson, and had recently come to this section from Nebraska. He easily proved an alibi and was not molested.

It is claimed this evening upon reliable authority that the officers have ascertained the whereabouts of the man wanted, and they will have him under arrest within twenty-four hours. Great secrecy is maintained, as the officers are anxious that no lynching shall occur.

George Haggard

Is now located on the west side square. Has the neatest shop, and the best all-round workman in Butler. Also a first class bath house in connection with shop, where gentlemen or ladies may indulge in the luxury of a hot or cold bath at all hours from 7 a. m. to 10 p. m. except Sunday. We do not solicit custom by virtue of our great worth in building up the town, but because we can give you better satisfaction than you can get anywhere else in the city.

Tired of Living Alone.

Kirkville, Mo., March 16.—This afternoon the body of Mrs. Jennie Tweedle, a widow about 40 years old, who resided in the north part of town was found in her house seated in a rocking chair with her feet resting on another chair. She had committed suicide by placing herself in this position and severing the arteries in each arm just above the elbows. There was a pen-knife, case-knife and a pair of scissors by her side, all of which had been used. She left two notes, one to her son in Moberly, Mo., telling him how to live, and another to a friend, stating that she was tired of living alone. She had not been seen by anyone for some time, and it is supposed she has been dead for several days.

Soothes and Heals.

SANTA ABIE soothes and heals the membranes of the throat and lungs, when poisoned and inflamed by disease. It prevents night sweats and tightness across the chest, cures coughs, croup, asthma, colds, bronchitis, pneumonia, whooping cough and all other throat and lung troubles. No other medicine so successful in curing nasal catarrh as CALIFORNIA CAT-R CURE. The enormous and increasing demand for these standard California remedies confirm their merits. Sold and absolutely guaranteed by Dr. E. L. Rice, druggist, at $1 a package. Three for $2.50.

The Brookfield Argus has published a series of very able and instructive articles on the tariff question, which have attracted the attention of the state press, and are extensively copied. The articles were contributed by the Hon. U. S. Hall, of Huntsville, state lecturer of the Farmers' and Laborer's Union. Mr. Hall informs the Argus that the democratic state central committee is arranging to publish the articles in book form, and send a copy to every farmer in Missouri. It is estimated that the publication will cost $18,000, of which Gov. Francis, with his usual liberality in everything which promises good to the state which he so ably governs, will contribute the sum of two thousand dollars. Mr. Hall presents the question fairly and forcibly, and we are pleased to note this movement for a general distribution of his articles.

A Sad Sort of Lesson.

The report comes that there is suffering from destitution in Kansas, and still Kansas never had a more bountiful crop than that of last year.

Kansas is a protective tariff state, which gets no protection. The farmers out there are this year paying the same high prices for the necessities of life that have been exacted in previous years, all for the sake of enriching a limited class of manufacturers and dealers, while they are selling their own products without protection. While the protected class is getting the usual profits, the farmers are finding it difficult to get money enough for their large crops to pay necessary expenses.

Many have been burning corn because it is cheaper than coal or wood. As a result of the inequalities of commerce, many of those unprotected farmers, who at their own expense vote for the protection of monopolists, are, it seems, suffering. It is a sad sort of lesson.—Indianapolis News.

Ingalls and Wheat.

J. R. Burton, of Abilene, Kansas, registered at the Midland this afternoon, being on his way home from Denver. When asked about the Sunflower state he said:

"The Farmers' Alliance will be a power in Kansas this fall, and rightly so, I think. The organization is spreading and I am glad that it is so but I am not on the inside. The time is coming when Ingalls will be defeated. He has been in the senate eighteen years and has been turning his attention to negroes while wheat is 35 cents a bushel and corn 12 cents. The raisers of these products will soon have their little say."—K. C. Star.

Consumption is on the Increase.

From recent statistics it appears that consumption is on the increase throughout the western states. The principal cause, it is stated, is due to neglect of common Coughs and Colds. It is the duty of all persons whether of delicate or robust health, to have a remedy at hand at all times in readiness, and if a cold or cold may be broken up before it becomes seated. BALLARDS HORE-HOUND SYRUP will cure any cough except in the last stages of consumption. A stitch in time saves nine. Always keep it in the house. Pyle & Crumley, agent.

Home Evidence

No other preparation has won success at home equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla. In Lowell, Mass., where it is made, it is now, as it has been for years, the leading medicine for purifying the blood, and toning and strengthening the system. This "good name at home" is "a tower of strength abroad."

It would require a volume to print all Lowell people have said in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Mr. Albert Estes, living at 28 East Pine Street, Lowell, for 15 years employed as boss carpenter by J. W. Bennett, president of the Erie Telephone Company, had a large running sore come on his leg, which troubled him a year, when he began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. The sore soon grew less in size, and in a short time disappeared.

Jos. Dunphy, 214 Central Street, Lowell, had swellings and lumps on his face and neck, which Hood's Sarsaparilla completely cured.

Mrs. C. W. Marriott, wife of the First Assistant Fire Engineer of Lowell, says that for 16 years she was troubled with stomach disorder and sick headache, which nothing relieved. The attacks came on every fortnight, when she was obliged to take her bed, and was unable to endure any noise. She took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and after a time the attacks ceased entirely.

Many more might be given had we room. On the recommendation of people of Lowell, who know us, we ask you to try

Ballard's Snow Liniment

Is the best Liniment in the world for animals. It will work wonders where ever any pain or inflammation may be found. Every owner of a horse should have it in his stable. For Sprains, Cuts, Bruises, Galls, Lameness and all inflammation on animals it stands without a parallel. There is no pain Ballard's Snow Liniment will not relieve, no swelling it will not subdue. No wound it will not heal. Pyle & Crumley, Agents.
